

The Environmental Killer

By Zainab Ali & Aleena Ali

taken by: Zainab Aleena Ali at School A)

(Picture
Ali and

I was walking around the school when I noticed a lot of rubbish lying around. I was thinking about how much it could hurt the animals. I was thinking because of us humans we are literally killing land animals. But we have a goal. A goal from sustainable development. The life on land goal. We could reduce the amount of plastic and rubbish we throw on the ground so that it doesn't fly away and hurt land animals. This way we can save animals and the environment.